Board Continues Discussion on Consolidated Financial Report

Financial Statements. The Board continued its discussion of guidance for governmentwide or consolidated level reporting. It reviewed refinements to two financial statements that the Department of Treasury had proposed to replace the Statements of Financing and Budgetary Resources at the consolidated level. After discussing different approaches, the Board decided to develop a standard that would:

- clarify that all Statements of Federal Financial Standards (SFFASs) apply to governmentwide reporting unless such reporting is specifically exempted,
- provide that the Statements of Financing and Budgetary Resources do not apply to the consolidated financial reports (CFR) of the US, and
- propose concepts for two new statements that would apply exclusively to the CFR. The statements would reconcile results of operations from accrual, budgetary, and cash bases in a format that would be easy for general readers to understand.

Staff will develop alternative formats and draft an exposure draft for discussion at the Board’s February 2002 meeting.

Stewardship Responsibilities

In October the Board reached agreement on 14 issues regarding a working draft of an exposure draft to reclassify stewardship responsibilities. Among other things, the Board has agreed that the proposed standard would:

- be effective for FY 2003;
- reclassify “risk assumed” information that is required by SFFAS 5 and the “current services assessment” (CSA) that is required by SFFAS 8 as required supplementary information (RSI) rather than “required supplementary stewardship information” (RSSI), as this information is currently classified;
- end the requirement to present the CSA in fiscal year 2004;
- reclassify the information about social insurance that is required by SFFAS 17 (and currently classified as RSSI) to make it clear that this information is an integral part of the basic financial statements, essential to fair presentation in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Questions in the exposure draft will solicit comments on topics such as the effective date and the cost of compliance, as well as the suitability of the proposed classifications.

Audience for the CFR.

The Board also discussed a staff analysis of the audience for the CFR. The analysis was based on the Board’s concepts documents. The Board asked staff to draft a concepts paper for its review at the February 2002 meeting.

Board Issues Three Standards

SFFAS 20, Elimination of Certain Disclosures Related to Tax Revenue Transactions by the Internal Revenue Service, Customs, and Others, Amendments to SFFAS No. 7, Accounting for Revenue and Other Financing Sources - rescinds paragraph 65.2 of SFFAS 7, which could result in information that could be misinterpreted by readers of the financial statements. SFFAS 20 is effective September 30, 2000.

SFFAS 21, Reporting Corrections of Errors and Changes in Accounting - Amendment of SFFAS 7, Accounting for Revenue and Other Financing Sources - amends the reporting requirements for errors that have been discovered in the current period and that would have materially affected prior period financial statements. In such situations, entities would restate financial statements to correct the error which would allow reporting entities to present comparative statements. SFFAS 21 is effective September 30, 2001 with earlier implementation encouraged.

SFFAS 22, Change in Certain Requirements for Reconciling Obligations and Net Cost of Operations Amendments to SFFAS No. 7, Accounting for Revenue and Other Financing Sources - amends Paragraph 80, SFFAS 7, eliminating the requirement for increases and decreases in receivables from the public related to exchange revenue to be reported as nonbudgetary resources. SFFAS 22 provides that the standard will no longer specify the location of this reconciling item in the Statement of Financing. SFFAS 22 is effective September 30, 2000.

Hard copies of the three SFFAS’s will be mailed to the FASAB mailing list. As with all FASAB documents, the SFFAS’s also are available on the FASAB web site at www.financenet.gov/fasab.htm or by calling 202-512-7350.

AAPC Update

Draft Guide for Stewardship Land and Heritage Assets

The Accounting and Auditing Policy Committee (AAPC) is seeking comments on its draft Stewardship guidance, Reporting and Assurance Guide for Stewardship Land and Heritage Assets. In 1998, the AAPC commissioned a multi-agency work group (AAPC Stewardship Guidance Work Group) to draft guidance that would assist Federal entities in implementing the standards for reporting and examining information on stewardship land and heritage assets. The draft Guide, prepared by the work group, provides implementation guidance in the areas of asset identification and categorization, materiality considerations, condition reporting, and auditor’s assurance.

The AAPC and the work group are aware of the FASAB’s desire to eliminate the required supplementary stewardship reporting (RSSI) category and designate information that is now reported as RSSI as either (a) “basic information” to the financial statements, (b) required supplementary information (RSI), or (c) other information. The AAPC and the work group will be closely monitoring the work of the FASAB in the pending re-categorization of RSSI items. The guidance will be revised as needed based on future decisions of the FASAB as they relate to the reporting of stewardship land and heritage assets.

For copies of the draft guidance and for instructions on where to submit comments, please go to the AAPC website at http://www.financenet.gov/financenet/fed/aapc/reports.htm (after December 1st, please visit www.fasab.gov)

Comments are due by December 21, 2001.
